

MURDER OF FATHER LEO IS AVENGED

Giuseppe Alla, Italian
Murderer, Pays Penalty for His Crime

CARRIED TO DEATH TRAP

Misguided Wretch Goes to Death
Calling Down Maledictions
Upon Priesthood.

Canyon City, Colo., July 16.—Calling down maledictions upon the Roman priesthood and shouting in Italian, "Long live Italy! Long live the Protestants," Giuseppe Alla, the mur-derer of Father Leo Heinrichs, was carried to the death trap, and at 8:30 o'clock last night paid the extreme penalty of his crime.

Father Heinrichs was killed at the altar rail in St. Elizabeth's church in Denver, while administering the sacrament of the Eucharist.

Alla's deed struck horror to the heart of every person in Denver and awakened anxiety throughout the Catholic world lest it should prove the beginning of a general plan of priest murder.

Alla had been in Denver several weeks, unemployed and apparently penniless. Early on the morning of Sunday, February 23, according to his story, he was aroused from sleep by the ringing of the chimes in St. Elizabeth's church.

He arose, dressed himself hurriedly and walked out to the church, led by the musical tones pealing forth a call to worship. But he went, not with the thought of thanksgiving in his mind, for he declared, and many times repeated, after his arrest that the chimes recalled wrongs experienced in his native Italy, and attributed by him to the church.

Entering the church Alla went through the usual ceremony of blessing himself with holy water, and then seated himself where his view of the altar would be unobstructed.
There he followed the ritual up to the point where communion is given to all who are prepared.

Not knowing, Alla has said, or caring kneeling, awaited the arrival of the priest officiating at the communion,
peared with the consecrated waters,
who it should be.

A number of other communicants
had assumed the same posture, and positions at the communion rail were practically all taken. When Father Leo—beloved by all who knew him
both in and outside the church—arrived, and the peculiarly sacred character
all at the rail seemed impressed with the solemnity and sacredness of the service and inspired with thoughts of God.

Alla however, according to his own statement, could barely restrain a desire to spring at the throat of the priest, despite the place, the scene.
Father Leo sank to the floor mortally
of the action in progress.

Along the line passed the priest,
placing upon the tongue of each successive communicant the consecrated wafer and repeating the lines of the mass declaring the Eucharist thus administered is the Savior himself in person.

Alla was now the next in line.
Father Leo placing the wafer upon the tongue of the stranger, all unsuspecting of the murderous design in Alla's heart, began: "Take, eat; this is my body"—but stopped horror stricken. The subject of the prayer had spat the blessed morsel from his mouth.

Almost simultaneously with this desecration a shot rang out and
Father Leo sank to the floor mortally wounded. A bullet from a revolver fired by Alla had penetrated the priest's body near the heart.

Father Wulstan Workman, hearing
the shot, rushed from the adjoining sacristy just in time to administer
to Father Leo the last sacrament.
Father Leo expired a moment later in the arms of his brother priest.

Immediately after firing the shot,
Alla, with a curse, darted toward the main aisle of the church and rushed for the door. With hair disheveled, smoking pistol flourishing over his head, he made his way to within ten feet of the portal, where he tripped
and fell.

Policeman Daniel Cronin, who was among the worshippers, wrenched the revolver from Alla's hand and dragged him to the street in an effort to protect him from the maddened worshippers.

Outside the policeman and his

charge were surrounded by several hundred persons, who were about to tear Alla from the officers hands,
when several priests and Franciscan Brothers appeared on the steps and pleaded with the enraged people to leave the avenging of the murder to God.

The presence of the ecclesiastics interceding for the life of the destroyer of a beloved brother had effect. The single policeman was permitted to take Alla away in a buggy hastily driven to police headquarters.

Several hours later Alla was spirited out of town in an automobile and taken to Colorado Springs for safekeeping.

The trial was comparatively brief,
but every opportunity of defense was given. Insanity was offered as a plea to escape the noose. The best alienists in Denver testified that Alla was sane and he was sentenced to be hanged.

A petition from citizens in Alla's native town in Italy pleading for his life, and declaring that undoubtedly he was insane, was forwarded to the Italian consul here, but for some reason unexplained was never presented to the governor.

Many believe that the murder of Father Leo was part of an anarchistic plot against the Catholic clergy, but nothing has recently transpired tending to substantiate this view.

PRETTY ROMANCE

WRATHY BRITISHER FINDS HIS ELOPING DAUGHTER IN NEW YORK HOTEL.

Had Fallen in Love With Chicago
Broker During Former Visit—Received Parental Blessing.

New York, July 16.—Henry M. Burbank, a Chicago broker, was revealed today as the hero of a genuine romance when Frank Gwynne Satterlee,
a London merchant, gave his relictant blessing on the Chicagoan's wedding to his eloping daughter after a heated scene in a New York hotel.

Brought for an American tour from a convent in Marseilles by two aunts, Miss Satterlee met Burbank in Chicago last summer. Love at first sight was the result and pretty Miss Satterlee was rushed quickly back to her content in Marseilles. Letter writing continued and June 29 Miss Satterlee disappeared. Her father, returning from a trip to Australia, put detectives on her trail. They learned she had sailed from Cherbourg, June 22 and that on the same boat was Burbank.

Later a letter came from New York telling the father that the heiress had married Burbank in Switzerland, and was having "such a good time" on her honeymoon here. Satterlee took the first boat for London.

INSANE MAN KILLS ANOTHER.
Pittsburg, July 16.—Seized with a mania to kill, George Tuset, an inmate of the insane ward at the Allegany City Home here, brained Henry Speller, also an insane patient, with a heavy polishing brush. After beating Speller insensible Tuset dashed at two guards and attempted to kill them. He was overpowered after a desperate struggle.

EDNA LOVES THE CHINK

THEREFORE SHE WILL REMAIN
IN THE CUSTODY OF HER
CHINESE HUSBY.

Friends Searching for Pretty St. Louis
Girl Thought She Had Been Kidnaped.

Chicago, July 16.—Miss Edna Kob-lentz, the 19-year-old St. Louis girl, has been found. Instead of being held by Chinese for ransom she is today safe in the custody of her Chinese husband, the "most unworthy and despicable Chin Loo," as he describes himself in speaking of his heart's romance. He met the young woman at the train and departed with her so quickly that friends thought she had been seized by Chinese bandits and was being held in captivity. Instead,
Mrs. Chinn Loo now is presiding over Loo's modest little restaurant at 760 Sixty-third street. She declares she will remain with her Chinese husband and will not return to St. Louis.

ONE KILLED TEN INJURED

WHEN WHITE MOUNTAIN EX-
STAMFORD, CONN.

Accident Was Caused by Spreading
Rails While Train Was Running
Sixty Miles an Hour.

East Stamford, Conn., July 16.—
One person has been killed and several others seriously injured, and a train-load of passengers badly shaken up as a result of the ditching of the White Mountain express near here this morning. A wrecking train, nurses and physicians were rushed to the scene.

Miss Margaret Armstrong of Philadelphia, was killed, and ten passengers injured, none seriously. Miss Armstrong's body was thrown under the truck and practically cut in two.
The wreck was caused by spreading rails while the train was going sixty miles an hour.

FOREST FIRES

Have Been Raging Since Sunday and Volunteers Are Battling With the Flames.

El Paso, Tex., July 16.—Terrible forest fires, are raging in the Sacramento mountains along the Sacramento river, and at the head of Dog
Canyon, ten miles from Alamogordo,
New Mexico. Rangers have been sent to the scene to fight the flames, reinforcing the volunteer fighters from that section who have been trying since Sunday to check the fire.

The finances of Cape Colony have been hard hit by the depression
in the diamond market.

THINKS IT WOULD BE SALVATION

If Both Burton and Herrick Would Contest for Foraker's Seat

STATEMENT OF FRIENDS

Taft Could Then Withdraw from Fight Against Foraker—Dick
to be Placed.

Washington, July 16.—Close friends of Judge Taft who have talked with him recently are convinced that the entrance of both Representative Theodore O. Burton and former Governor Myron T. Herrick as contestants for Senator Foraker's seat, would be the salvation of the Taft ticket in Ohio.

With Burton and Herrick in the race, Judge Taft would announce that he couldn't possibly choose between two such loyal supporters and would withdraw his personal friends from the fight against Foraker.

In return for this the Foraker followers could work for Taft. Instead of continuing the war on Foraker Taft has been laying ground work for peace. His letter thanking Senator Foraker for his congratulations on his nomination, in which he referred to the senator as having secured for him his first job in public life, was warmly received.

Senator Dick, who stood loyally by Senator Foraker in his fight against Judge Taft, has been offered a prominent position in the coming campaign,
and will accept.

BUSINESS MEN

INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CONFERENCE WITH WILLIAM
JENNINGS BRYAN.

Would Seek Their Advice Regarding
Appointment of Campaign Manager.

Lincoln, July 16.—William Jennings
Bryan today sent invitations to a half dozen big Democratic business men, who have in the past been known to politicians, to visit him during next week, if possible, at Lincoln, and if not then to meet with him in Chicago, on July 25. He asks advice from those men as to a campaign manager.
Active workers want one of their number chosen, but Bryan thinks what is needed this time is a business man who has had experience in handling mammoth enterprises. It can be announced positively that Bryan will make a spell binding tour of the East and doubtful states. He is already conserving his strength to this end.

BIG APARTMENT HOUSE BURNS

Wheeling, W. Va., July 16.—The Rolf apartment house, containing thirty-two prominent families, caught fire this morning and in an hour the entire structure together with St.
Joseph's cathedral, was threatened.
The fire department after a long fight succeeded in checking the flames with a loss of eight thousand dollars.

ASSAULT

Alleged to Have Been Committed on Eleven Year Old Girl by a Prominent Singer.

Milan, July 16.—Venturini, one of the best known bassos in Europe, has been arrested charged with an attack on the 11 year old daughter of his landlord, previous to his departure for England. Venturini had just returned to Milan after a season in the Covent Garden London. If found guilty a penalty of 15 years' solitary confinement will be inflicted. The accusing girl says that after the alleged offense Venturini threatened to kill her unless she kept silent. For a long time she was afraid to tell, she said.

MURDERED

WAS ALBERT PLATZ, FOUND DEAD IN CHAIR ACCORDING TO CHIEF WEBBER.

Was President of Mexican Plantation
Company in Which Investors
Lost Large Sums.

Lacrosse, Wis., July 16.—Chief of Police Webber today is working on the theory that Albert Platz, 65, owner of the Lacrosse tannery, was murdered at the plant after the workmen had left for the night. He was found dead in his chair in the office, shot through the heart. A big revolver was found on the floor several feet away while one hand held a soiled cleaning rag but there were no powder burns on the body. It is known that Platz was not a sportsman and was not in the habit of handling fire arms. Platz was president of the reorganized Mexican plantation company of Lacrosse in which original investors, including himself, lost several hundred thousand dollars. He was one of the wealthiest manufacturers
in this section of the state.

FIREWORKS

Responsible For Death of Three Men
Today on Wharf of Boston Harbor.

Boston, July 16.—Three men were killed and a dozen injured, one fatally, by an explosion of fire works
today in the Boston and Maine railroad freight house on Mystic wharf in Boston harbor. The dead are Albert Nickerson, Thomas Mason and Charles F. Atwood.

BUILDERS

LOOKING FORWARD TO NEXT YEAR'S WORK WHICH PROM-ISES TO BE ACTIVE.

Dr. C. H. Stimson's Apartment House
Being Pushed to Rapid Completion.

Builders in the city are getting busy early and the prospects for next spring's work point to one of the best
real estate and building seasons
in several years.

It is understood that bids were received for the construction of the new building of the Park National Bank and work will begin immediately. The details will be announced within a few days.

Dr. C. H. Stimson's new apartment structure, located on East Church street, is being rapidly pushed to completion, and when finished, promises to be one of the finest of its kind in the city. There are three distinct houses, of seven rooms each, baths
and laundry rooms, the latter in the basement, under the one roof. The partition walls between the different apartments are fire proof and absolutely sound proof. The basement of each apartment is floored with cement
and a complete laundry equipment,
consisting of tub, laundry stove and other appliances, are to be installed.

The heating system will be a decided novelty, consisting of three new style furnaces, manufactured at Youngstown, Ohio. The heaters are equipped in such a way that either gas, coal or wood may be used in them, or all three at once if desired.
The fire box of each is surrounded with a wide air chamber to prevent it from burning out, as is often the case with other styles of furnaces.

The west apartment has been secured by Dr. H. D. Rank, for his residence, while the middle house will be occupied by Dr. Landale, assistant medical examiner of the B. & O. railroad's local division.

The east side is being reserved for Dr. J. W. Sherry, who comes here soon from Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, to become an assistant to Dr. Stimson. Dr. Sherry will devote himself exclusively to specializing on the eye, ear, nose and throat, as he is an expert in that particular branch of the medical profession.

The new structure will be lighted
by either natural gas or electricity,
and when completed, about August 1
will be one of the most attractive buildings on East Church street.

The new high school building, on West Main street, is expected to be ready for occupancy by the time school opens. With the addition to the old structure, accommodations
can be had for about 1600 students, there being 12 additional rooms for school purposes, not including offices
and rooms for manual training purposes.

The average increase annually, during the past seven years, at the High school equals a fraction over 39. With the additional advantages in the High school this year it is believed that there will be in the neighborhood of 200 eighth grade pupils entering the Freshman classes this fall.

NEGRO ROBBER

HOLDS PISTOL TO HEAD OF MO-
TORMAN AND COMPELS HIM TO SPEED CAR.

Had Stolen $1,000 Worth of Furs and
Was Being Chased by Posse of Citizens.

Chicago, July 16.—Holding a pistol
to the head of Joseph Mahon, motorman of an Irving Park car and compelling him to speed his car to elude pursuers, an unknown negro yesterday made his escape with a bundle of furs, stolen from the establishment of
M. Silbar. The furs were worth about $1,000. The burglary was discovered by Homer Krauss, a watchman, who gave chase to the negro. After firing several shots at the fleeing negro, he was joined in the chase by other citizens of the neighborhood. The negro remained on the car until it reached the Northwestern elevated station.

LAND FRAUD

Scheme Manipulated on Large Scale is Broken Up by Arrest of the Principal Promoter.

New York, July 16.—By the arrest of Henry E. G. Cooke of Baker City, Ore., and the unfolding of the operations of the Oregon ranching and timber company before the federal grand jury the United States district attorney here has broken up one of the largest land frauds that ever operated in the country. Cooke's scheme ran into the millions and by the acquisition of land by the dummy entrants the Oregon ranching and timber company flourished for a time.
Already a party of 38 men and women had been sent west to "locate" as the promoters called their scheme of taking up government property.

STRENUOUS

Was the Courtship of Carpenter Who Finally Wins Bride and is on His Honeymoon.

St. Joseph, Mo., July 16.—After a romantic courtship made difficult by parental objection in which he was forced to follow his sweetheart to an insane asylum and win her freedom,
Frank Carpenter, a traveling showman living at Kalamazoo, is on his honeymoon today. He was married to Miss Edna May Davis, 18, in the court room, where his bride had just been awarded her freedom, and they left for Kansas City. Miss Davis' parents objected to Carpenter and finally placed her in the state asylum here.

AMERICANS

Win Notable Victories in Olympic Games, Breaking Several World's Records.

London, July 16.—In the Olympic games today Americans won a notable victory in the finals of the discus throw. Martin Sheridan, of the Irish American Athletic club of New York, won with a throw of 134 feet, 2
inches; Giffin of Chicago, another American, was second, and "Big Bill" Horr of Syracuse, was third. Sheridan breaks his own Olympic record of 132 feet.

The final in the shot put was won by Ralph Rose of the Olympic club, of San Francisco. The distance was 46 feet 7 1-2 inches, beating the record of 46 feet 1 1-2 inches.

CONNIVED

WITH HIS MINISTERS

And Late King Carlos and Family Appropriated
Crown Property

RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Political Grafters Put Deals
Through and Received Large Commissions.

Lisbon, July 16.—Fresh revelations came to light today regarding the misappropriation of crown property
by the late King Carlos and his family. The commission investigating the illegal transactions declare today that the early estimate of $1,000,000 would probably be too small.

The "seculo" has made known the method by which such large sums were obtained. With the connivance of the ministers, these sums were paid out as advance to corporations which only received a part of the money the rest of it going to the royal family.

One big railway is listed as having been advanced $4,000,000 for extension of its lines, but its books show that only $800,000 was actually received.
The sum of $3,200,000 was divided among King Carlos and the political grafters who put the deal through.

Dowager Queen Maria appears as guilty as the rest. It is charged that after improperly receiving $1,000,000
from the state she secretly contracted a loan in Germany of $625,000 at 6 per cent repayable within a year. For this loan she paid $7,000, commission to the agent. This loan has now fallen due, and the government fearing a scandal, has been forced to pay it.

The discovery that $1,000,000 worth of the "crown jewels" are missing has enraged the public more than any of the other disclosures. These jewels, while in the custody of the royal family, really belong to the state and King Manuel has promised to make good their loss.

RUNNERS

Of the Y. M. C. A. Relay Race to Chicago Are Cutting Down the Scheduled Time.

Little Falls, N. Y., July 16.—Cutting down the scheduled time with every lap, Y. M. C. A. runners who are carrying a message from New York's mayor to Mayor Busse of Chicago, arrived here at noon. At Utica where the runners are expected this afternoon, a message will be handed to James S. Sherman, Republican vice presidential candidate. He will pass it to Mayor Wheeler and from his hand it will flee again on its way to Chicago.

PROHIBS

Will Nominate Candidates for President and Vice President This Afternoon.

Columbus, July 16.—The Prohibition national convention will nominate candidates for president and vice president this afternoon. At the morning session a platform was adopted and $15,000 raised as the nucleus of a campaign fund. The platform of course declares for absolute prohibition and for woman suffrage in a modified plank to satisfy Southern people by demanding that all suffrage be based on intelligence and morality alone.

CHARGES CONSPIRACY.
Newark, O., July 16.—A plea in abatement and motion to quash four indictments against Congressman
Lanning, former vice president of the Ohio Trust company, in connection with the failure of that institution,
were filed in Common Pleas court today. The plea is made that there ought not to be further prosecution of the indictments because the latter are the result of prejudice and conspiracy of men to indict defendant falsely. The motions will be taken up Monday.

The name Mad Parliament was given to the Parliament which assembled at Oxford in the year 1258, and broke out into open rebellion against Henry III.

A Talk on Olive Oil

SOME INSIDE FACTS, NOT GENERALLY KNOWN, BUT INTERESTING. "PURE" is usually supposed to describe the highest quality of OLIVE OIL, but such is by no means always true. Without exception, the oil imported here is the second, and more often the third pressing—which though pure, is very much inferior to the first expressed.

The best article obtainable in this market is the California product—THE SYLMAR BRAND. This oil is obtained entirely from the first pressing of the fruit, and is not only strictly pure, but of the very highest MEDICINAL quality, and is also entirely palatable.

We supply this article at the price usually charged for ordinary grades, and will be pleased to have our friends compare it with any other product.

Heaven.

Tew kin talk about ch' biscuits that yer mother used to make. Yew kin boast o' bread an' shortcake that yer granny used to bake. But they's nothin' starts me thinkin' of no days that's gone for aye. As that houned palata tickler—mother's juncy pieplant pie.

Don't you know how pink an' greenish that there pieplant grew in spring? Then she'd cut it, young and tender, an' she'd give it to me. I'd eat it, an' then she'd sing she sung o' gladness, sorter croun-like an' high. Used to work right in an' flavor mother's luscious pieplant pie.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

The Baltimore & Ohio is the oldest railroad in the United States. The original charter was granted in 1826 and the road was for a number of years operated with horse power. It was the first corporation in the United States to operate with steam power and was the first line to connect the headwaters of the Ohio river with the Atlantic ocean. The Baltimore & Ohio, however, was a local line extending only as far as the Ohio into the close of the Civil war, when a vigorous policy of extension was inaugurated. Lines were built to several Lake Erie ports and to Chicago, on the one hand, and to Cincinnati and St. Louis on the other. The Baltimore & Ohio immediately assumed a leading part in the affairs of the trunk lines. Believing that its system possessed material advantages over those of its competitors, because of its more recent construction, it began a policy of active and vigorous competition for the through business, which it continued without interruption until the date of its insolvency in 1896. During a large portion of this time it was under the control and domination of the two Garretts—John W. Garrett and his son, Robert, who played an important and commanding part in the councils of the trunk line roads. The system enjoyed many years of prosperity and came to be regarded as one of the strongest railroads in the United States.

Railway Y. M. C. A. a Big Factor.

Reports on the past season's work received from the 25 branches of the Y. M. C. A. on the Pennsylvania railroad have been received in Columbus, and show a paid membership of something over 10,000, the largest branch being at Philadelphia with 1926 members. The total attendance for the season was 682,723. The attendance at all educational meetings was 15,543, while the total attendance for the religious meetings held at the Pennsylvania railroad branches was 72,238. In one month the attendance at these meetings reached 16,826.

Shippers Must Use Stakes.

The Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington has handed down a decision upholding the present laws enforced by the railroads, requiring shippers of lumber on open cars to use stakes to secure safety in transportation. The lumbermen have contended that such a practice subjected them to undue expense, but the railroads pointed out that many accidents and much in the way of damage claims and loss of lumber is averted by the use of the stakes in loading the lumber. The decision grew out of a number of complaints filed against the railroads by the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' Association and others.

Sparks From the Rail.

The employees of the B. & O. at this point were made happy Wednesday, when they received their checks for last month's work.

G. A. Schmitt, of Wheeling, W. Va., superintendent of motive power of the B. & O. passed through the city the first of the week, on his way to Sandusky to determine the extent of damages in the B. & O. shop fire there Sunday morning.

Employees of the Pennsy will receive their pay this week for June, and an increase is noted on all divisions, although the amount in the Pittsburgh district will not be much larger than for May. On some of the divisions where maintenance, shop and repair work is heavy the pay roll will be increased by thousands of dollars.

Warner W. Brown, a well known B. & O. brakeman, while running over the top of his train at Cumberland, ran a splinter into his foot, which terminated in a very bad wound. He is rapidly recovering from the injury, however, and expects to return to work soon.

A. G. Baxter, a yard brakeman, had his back seriously injured some time ago while at work. He is reported as rapidly recovering at this writing and will soon be able to return to work.

Thomas Kennedy, a machinist employed in the shops, is suffering with intermittent fever.

Engineer George Beatty who has been off duty for a short time on account of sickness, has recovered and has returned to work.

B. G. Schilling, a popular machinist employed in the shops, who had one of his eyes badly injured some time ago, by a small piece of steel finding lodgment in it, has recovered and has been marked up for work.

Alfred Hickey, a shop employee, had one of his feet badly crushed by a heavy wheel falling on it, but is now recovering from his injury.

Thomas Minkwitz, a B. & O. railroad employee, who had one of his legs badly burned some time ago, has recovered and has returned to work.

Things around the B. & O. yards present a more animated appearance than for some time past.

Warner A. Reel, a shop employee, had one of his hands badly injured by striking it with a hammer.

Richard Harrison, one of the oldest carpenters employed by the B. & O. railroad company at this point, is unable to work on account of a lame knee.

Patrick Kennedy, a hostler at the shops, is off with a lame back.

M. J. Downey, a car repairer employed at the shops, had one of his thumbs badly mashed while engaged in putting material in a car.

H. M. Huffman, a machinist apprentice, had his right hand badly cut on a small nail while engaged in rolling a car wheel into the shop.

Robert Huffman, a popular pattern maker employed at the shops, is suffering with a severe attack of lumbago, and will be unable to work for some days.

John Ginger, a core maker at the shops, is suffering with intermittent fever.

George Coman, locomotive inspector, who had one of his legs disabled some time ago, is rapidly recovering and will soon be able to work.

Fireman G. W. Kunninger who was so badly injured in the wreck in which Engineer Floyd was killed a few weeks ago, is reported as nearly recovered.

Peter Yost, who had his left arm broken some time ago, has recovered from his injury.

O. B. Varner, a B. & O. brakeman who fell from his train at Stewartsville and bruised his face badly has about recovered.

The Pennsylvania railroad reports a loss of $8,722,000 in gross earnings, and $773,900 in net earnings. These are the heaviest losses since the depression began. Up to the end of May of the current year the losses on the lines east of Pittsburgh have averaged $2,578,000 a month, or at the rate of $30,000,000 a year.

On Sunday, July 19, the B. & O. will run an excursion from Columbus to Wheeling, the train leaving Newark at 7:35 o'clock a. m. There will also be an excursion from Shawnee to Cedar Point, the train leaving Newark at 6:10 o'clock a. m.

The local interurban cars going east are well patronized by people who are engaged in picking blackberries at Black Hand and at Pleasant Valley.

"Billy" Segle, a popular B. & O. brakeman, is unable to work on account of a sore throat. He is confined to his home on Spring street.

Supt. Bonebrake and staff of the Pan Handle railway company were in Newark Wednesday making their monthly trip over the lines.

A new telegraph office was installed at Outville by the C. & N. division B. & O. and Pan Handle, today, and was opened for business at noon.

Officials of the Pan Handle railway at this point say that the freight business is gradually improving, and that the passenger traffic has been very good for some weeks.

L. C. Decker, a popular B. & O. engineer, is moving his family from East Church street, to 91 South Second street.

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Owing to the fact that the interest is greatly increased, and that the churches united their prayer services with the rent meeting, a large crowd gathered at the rent, and listened very attentively to the able and interesting address delivered by the Rev. Mr. Warner. He spoke about the need of self examination, consecration and prayer, as the necessary points to observe in bringing about a far reaching revival, an awakening that would stir Newark thoroughly.

The meeting tonight will be addressed by one of the pastors who has been in the city a comparatively short time, but who conducted a very successful series of meetings early in the present year. Perhaps many have not heard him, but they will enjoy hearing him tonight.

It would be decidedly advantageous if we could ask for a large offering every night, because the expenses are large and the offering isn't, but we feel we shall be able to meet all expenses before the meetings end. The song books are sold for 10 cents each, which will pay for them and give you a good book also.

RHEUMATIC FOLKS!

Are You Sure Your Kidneys are Well?

Many rheumatic attacks are due to uric acid in the blood. But the duty of the kidneys is to remove all uric acid from the blood. Its presence there shows the kidneys are inactive. Don't dally with 'uric acid solvents.' You might go on till doomsday with them, but until you cure the kidneys you'll never get well. Doan's Kidney Pills not only remove uric acid, but cure the kidneys and then all danger from uric acid is ended. Here is Newark testimony to prove it.

Mrs. M. E. Manville, 39 Lansing Block, Newark, Ohio, says: "I received more relief from Doan's Kidney Pills than from any remedy I ever used. I was bothered a great deal from rheumatism in my limbs and back and was never free from pain. Although I used various remedies, I was constantly growing worse. I at last heard of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured a box at Crayton's drug store and took them according to directions and they completely disposed of the rheumatism and rid me of all the other symptoms of disordered kidneys. Although this was over ten years ago, I can just as heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills today as the results I obtained have proven permanent."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

GOMPERS FOR BRYAN.

Gompers, the labor leader, has spoken and his words will have much to do with shaping the results of the coming election. Hitchcock, with millions of dollars behind him, contributed by the monopolies and trusts, cannot buy the labor vote, when once labor learns the attitude of the parties. Gompers will explain that attitude and will explain it in such a manner that his followers will see the force and truthfulness of his arguments.

Gompers said at Lincoln:

"We propose to assist to the fullest extent in bringing about the enactment of the Denver platform into law, which means that we will do our level best to secure its ratification by the people. This cannot be done except through the election of the candidates standing upon it. It goes without saying that we are for the candidates as well as the platform."

"Will labor act as a political unit in the campaign?"

"I can answer that question best by saying that in all meetings of the American Federation of Labor its officers were instructed to work for political declarations by both parties on matters in which organized labor is interested. The Republicans turned us down at Chicago, while the Democrats at Denver met us fairly and squarely. The members of the Federation have a pretty good idea what they want and they know by this time who their friends are."

The Situation in Iowa.

J. B. Sullivan's prediction that the Democrats will carry Iowa is something more than mere rainbow chasing. The last time the Democratic party was thoroughly united it carried Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, more than a third of Michigan, and ran the Republicans so close in Ohio as to capture one elector. That is the section of the country in which the main struggle will occur this year. The tariff reform sentiment has been growing rapidly in Iowa. The late Colonel Henderson retired from the Congressional race, though he was speaker of the House, because his constituents demanded a lower tariff. Cummins has been having things pretty much his own way in the state, and he is a low tariff man—until he tried to get Allison's seat, and then the people turned out and beat him for the old man Allison's sake; but the present indications will have a majority in the legislature, and Cummins will be elected, after all. At any rate, there is a very bitter fight between the two Republican factions, and it will have a direct effect in behalf of Bryan.

Bryan's Real Victory.

(Springfield Republican.)

With few and admirable exceptions it is the evident purpose of the Democratic leaders to appeal to the people on behalf of the Republican President as against his own party. Nor in doing so does the Bryan party reflect or retreat toward the Republicanism of 1896 or 1900. It is the Republican position which has been moved forward, on the great economic questions of the time, and not the Bryan Democratic position which has moved backward. If the Bryan Democrats are found now standing pretty close by the President, it is because the latter has become located on Democratic ground.

Won't Vote for Taft.

(Coshocton Times.)

Because he thinks the vast body of Republicans did not get a "fair deal" and because the nomination of Taft was brought about by bosses. Hon. James Glenn of Coshocton, who has been a leading Republican of the county and state, having been a member of the Ohio Legislature, has only stated that this is the year for Republican house cleaning, and that he will not vote for Taft. There are more of the same kind.

WAKE UP BOYS

TRIBUNE MAN AWAKES FROM A DREAM AND WRITES SOME "QUEER" POPE.

Got His Own Mixed and Seeks Self Praise for Article Which Appeared in Advocate.

Wednesday evening the American Tribune in a double column flaming head contained an article regarding the arrest of Ira Kuntz, wanted at Lancaster on a serious charge, that of horse stealing, and endeavored to take all the praise for the landing of the alleged thief through the efficiency of the Newark police department assisted by the news columns of the Advocate. Tuesday evening's Tribune says in part:

"The American Tribune was informed Chief Zergibel on Monday afternoon that a black horse hitched to a red running scared buggy had been stolen by a man named Ira Kuntz at Lancaster. The rig belongs to Liveryman G. W. Poling."

"The American Tribune printed the article in the paper and one of the paper's subscribers for a long time, Charles O'Bannon, living near Stadden's bridge, saw the item. He promptly called up the police headquarters at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and told them that a man, horse and buggy answering the description had just passed the house going to town towards Brownsville."

"We wonder what brand of dope the reporter who wrote the above article smokes. Evidently he was in a trance and had been reading the Advocate for a close perusal of both Monday's and Tuesday's Tribune failing to disclose a single line regarding the alleged stealing of the Lancaster horse and buggy."

In fact a magnifying glass of the greatest diameter one that would magnify a thousand fold, would fail to disclose one poor little word in the Tribune.

Surely they were accepting self-praise with a vengeance. But that is nothing new for our esteemed contemporary. They say Charles O'Bannon living near Stadden's bridge called them up after reading the item in the Tribune.

The writer ought to wake up and fix up his dope book, for in the first place the item never appeared in the Tribune and in the second place Charles O'Bannon lives miles away from Stadden's bridge.

The true facts in the case are these: Monday evening the Advocate printed the story of the missing horse and buggy and asked its readers to be on the lookout for same. It gave a full description of the outfit and requested that Chief Bob Zergibel be communicated with at once in case the horse and buggy should be seen. Tuesday morning Leonard Crosby, employed on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie O'Bannon, NEAR STADDEN'S BRIDGE, picked up the Advocate and read the story of the missing horse and buggy. Now Mr. Crosby is a very observing gentleman and after reading the story he became greatly excited and calling to William O'Bannon, a son of Ollie, exclaimed: "Here's a full description of a stolen horse and buggy that passed our place last evening."

Mr. O'Bannon immediately called up Chief Zergibel and acquainted him with the facts and in less than five minutes that hustling official had Officer Hager on the trail that resulted in the recovery of the outfit and the capture of the alleged thief.

We do not like to shatter the pretty story which the Tribune man worked up, all out of his imagination, but we would advise him in the future to get close to the facts in the case, or else call up the Advocate and get a true line on the situation.

This firm was not in the so-called combine of bidders and had their united opposition, and members of the Board of Service desired further time to investigate the merits of this hydrant. Both Messrs. Mr. Pusey, the agent of the firm, who was here to do the bidding, is well known

MR. FRANK LINKE

Struck by Auto Tuesday Suffers Intensely and is Still in a Serious Condition.

Reports from the bedside of Mr. Frank Linke, assistant manager of the Newark-Milner store, who was injured in a collision with an auto on Tuesday, are to the effect that Mr. Linke's condition shows no improvement and he continues to suffer intensely from his injuries.

Mr. Linke's physicians state that there will be no change noticeable in his condition for two or three days yet, but that the accident is a serious matter which may confine the victim for many days.

FARMERS' VIEWS

Why Agriculturists Support the Taxation Amendment.

PRESENT PLAN IS A FAILURE

Constitutional Amendments Must Be Adopted to Give Equity in Taxation to Farmers.

Farmers of the state, individually and through organization, are giving strong support to the taxation constitutional amendment. Here is some interesting news from leading agriculturists:

I am heartily in favor of the tax amendment, which will give greater liberty in taxation. I feel confident that the Grange, which has secured more beneficial legislation for the entire people of the state than any other organization, will be abundantly able to care for the interests of the farmers. Our tax system can not be worse than it now is, and I have hopes that with a good tax commission, which will carefully study the entire question, Ohio can reach an enviable position among the states of the Union in devising a tax system that will encourage thrift and investment, instead of, as now, discouraging it. Ohio can never make progress in taxation till the constitution is amended allowing her latitude in devising a taxation system that is just.—F. P. Ames, Lecturer Deputy Masters' Association, Ohio State Grange; Lecturer Washington County Pomona Grange.

DEPUTY MASTER S. J. BALDWIN.

S. J. Baldwin, president of the Deputy Masters' association, Ohio State Grange, deputy master of Summit county, writes: "The present taxation clause in the constitution has been in force for 50 years and is admitted by its friends to be a complete failure, less property being listed in the cities than 50 years ago. As the amendment says the legislature MAY, not SHALL, classify property for purposes of taxation, is it not time to at least try a plan, that if unsatisfactory, still permits a return to the present plan? What is there to lose even if unsatisfactory?"

TUSCARAWAS POMONA GRANGE.

Rev. W. H. Rice, D. D., chaplain Tuscarawas County Pomona Grange, said in recent address before that body: "I do not believe that the legislature is the worst body of men. Our last legislature made some mistakes for which we are all sorry. (What one of us does not also make mistakes which are regrettable?) But it also gave us some of the best legislation Ohio ever had. Let us not constantly take men at their worst. Let us sometimes take them at their best. I suspect my own honesty when I suspect the honesty of others. It is narrow-gauge to carry our distrust to the extreme that we can not trust ourselves, our fellow-men or our ability to elect men of honor and ability to represent us. The legislature is elected as a representative of the intelligence and integrity of the people and reflects these qualities of the electors. I do not believe in this universal muck-raking carried on by those hoping for profit politically and otherwise. Some say that to amend the constitution and place the matter of raising revenues in the hands of the legislature will be 'to jump from the frying pan into the fire.' I say we are in the fire already. Let us change our laws which are wrong in theory and in practice, and thus be able to get fairly at other property. As our laws now stand tangible property, the fruits of thrift and industry, bears a share of tax entirely out of proportion to its producing it. It must bear an ever-increasing burden, unless more revenue can be derived from intangible property, because as fast as the rate goes up the kind of property easily concealed will go into hiding. We boast of living in the twentieth century. Let us really live in it, not in the nineteenth or eighteenth. Let us rid ourselves of this hide-bound conservatism that is sapping the morals of our people and robbing them of their earnings. We have faith in the people; faith in the past; faith in the present; faith in the future. Let us amend our constitution. Give the people through their representatives an opportunity to work out a system that is suitable. Our present system is woefully unjust. It can not be bettered till the constitution is amended. Ohio should not lag behind, but forge to the front and lead other states to a better system."

CARLWICK GRANGE, MUSKINGUM COUNTY.

At the eighth anniversary of Carlwick Grange, Muskingum county, the lecturer, H. D. Lewis, urged upon the Grange the necessity of a more liberal tax system, and the need of amending our constitution before equity in taxation could be secured. He said: "Our system bears the heaviest on farmers because their property, the result of thrift and industry, is in sight. Let us get as far away as possible from the time worn theory that all property should be taxed equally and seek a system that will yield a sufficient income to carry on the growing needs of our government and that will fall more easily upon the real producers of wealth. Let us tax the profits of privilege, not of industry. Under the present system of uniformity there is absolute non-uniformity in valuing property and the heaviest burden is borne by us."

A TENDERFOOT IN THE ROCKIES

Denver, Col., July 13, 1908.

Editor Advocate:—I know of no better way to tell my numerous friends in old Licking of the pleasant trip I am having and the many attractions of this "middle west," than through the medium of the old reliable Advocate.

I left Newark Friday, July 2, at 5:30 a. m., via the P. C. O., and St. L. R. R. and the C. B. and Q. for Denver, Colorado, which was at that time the Mecca of all good Democrats. We stopped at St. Louis, long enough to change cars and get a slice of watermelon, then on, presumably, for Kansas City. But, owing to high waters, we detoured directly to St. Joseph, Mo., where we had a stop-over for four hours, from eight till noon, which was thoroughly enjoyed. They had the Fourth of July at St. Joe and they had it to the fullest extent; as the town was wide open with patriotism and explosives. The celebration was under the auspices of the Elks, who are 1,000 strong, and have a beautiful $60,000 home. Missouri has the best farming land and the handsomest girls and women I have ever seen—since leaving Licking county.

Leaving St. Joe with regret we boarded our train again for Denver, a noon of the Fourth, passing through patriotic celebrations, all along the line, till midnight. The portion of Indiana that we passed through previously was quite attractive, but the part of Illinois that we saw, was poorer. From St. Joe to Colorado, we skirted along on the lower edge of Nebraska, occasionally dipping over into the northern edge of Kansas. The soil was, generally speaking, very good; the little villages thrifty and the crops very promising, though fruit was scarce. The chief crops, till we got almost to Colorado, appeared to be wheat, corn and oats, in that order, with a little timothy hay—and I want to say, that the first three were magnificent. In western Nebraska, and in Colorado, alfalfa seemed to be the principal crop. Accustomed to the generally clear streams of Ohio, the muddy rivers and creeks of southern Nebraska looked like hog wallows.

The scenery of western Nebraska and southern Colorado was not par of undulating prairie, which preceded the foothills of the Rockies. The principal crop here seemed to be sage brush and prairie dogs. The latter animals, as the lamented Artemus Ward would say, were very "annoyin' little cusses!" about the size of an ordinary guinea pig and greatly resembling them. They would scurry to the little earth mounds that constituted their homes, at the sound of the train; and then sitting right straight up would smile a greeting at us, and wave us a welcome with their paws. The raising of horses and cattle is the great industry here and we passed herd after herd of fine animals of both species. It has been very dry out through Nebraska and Colorado, however, and, in many places, the animals were trying to eat dried-up pasture that a Licking county steer would turn up his nose at!

Wray was the first little town that we passed through, after entering Colorado. It was early Sunday morning and the engine stopped to take water, while the male population of the village, who were enterprising enough to be up so early, gazed lazily at the train, with their hands in their pockets. I thought it a good opportunity to feel the political pulse and so I stuck my head out of the window and shouted "Hurrah for Bryan!" at a citizen I saw passing by, in a slouch hat, with his hands in his pockets. The citizen, however, answered not a word; but mournfully twisted his head, slowly around, in the negative! Discouraged; but not dismayed, I gave the same greeting to a couple of wide-awake men, that came briskly along next. They immediately swung their hats around and shouted back enthusiastically: "That's the stuff!" and I was satisfied!

I said that it was Sunday morning and thoughts of breakfast began to intrude themselves upon our devotional feelings. Upon pointed inquiry of the porter, that sable gentleman indly informed us, that the diner had been taken off somewhere during the night. As we were all alone, upon a boundless prairie, with no breakfast and the nearest eating house hours away! There was a predicament, for a tenderfoot, with a large and rapidly increasing appetite! Akron was our haven of refreshment—and Akron immediately became the height of our desire—but Akron was over 40 miles away; and we had a heavy train, with only one engine! I draw a veil over the next two hours!

It was 9 o'clock when the brakeman shouted "Akron!" and no sweeter sound ever fell on human ears! A eripule, that had moved with great difficulty on the train, was out and at the picnic counter, before the echo of the brakeman's cry had died away upon the thin Colorado atmosphere! And, mirthful diet! crisp ham, delicious omelet, fine fried potatoes and perfect coffee furnished forth a feast, to those hundred and odd famished travelers, that has not been excelled since Adam and Eve partook of their first wedding breakfast in the Garden of Eden, with no mother-in-law to destroy their appetite. I feelingly told the landlord, as I gratefully handed him my fifty cents per, that he had saved my life and earned my undying gratitude!

We arrived at Denver at noon, Sunday; only four hours late, after a ride of over 1,100 miles; and found the depot crowded and jammed with a crowd of probably two or three thousand people—Democrats and visitors to the convention—all from all over the country, and hospitable Denverites there to greet them. The air was full of music, from a hundred first class bands, and shoutings from thousands of patriotic throats, while flags and banners and bunting waved everywhere and gave a glad welcome that surpassed even the costly greetings of the magnificent arch of Welcome at the depot, through which all the thousands of visitors came.

I shall not attempt to describe Denver, the beautiful, as everyone knows about it and it is really indescribable. A city of over 200,000 inhabitants and rapidly growing; a mile above sea-level and a climate that is perfect; filled by men of capital and enterprise, Denver is an ideal home and an ideal business place and has a marvelous future before it, even greater than its marvelous past! And, every man, woman and child in Denver was united in the effort to make the convention a success. No convention was ever more hospitably received or more royally entertained, than was this one, by the citizens of Denver. There was no effort to "do" anyone, except to do them all the good possible. For the time being, every Denverite was a Democrat and wore a button reading, "I live in Denver—ask me!"

The attendance of delegates and visitors at the convention was unprecedented, 50,000 being the lowest estimate. The harmony and enthusiasm of the delegates was marvelous! There was but one sentiment and one expression and that was, Bryan! Whatever Bryan wanted, went; he held the convention in the hollow of his hand—platform, vice president and all; and if the delegates had thought, for a moment, that he wanted them to leave the magnificent Auditorium in which they met and adjourn to the rocky and inhospitable summit of Pike's Peak, they would undoubtedly have done it!

And all this, simply because of one thing—the thing that nominated him in July and will elect him in November—he has the entire confidence and love of the people. He had no organization at the convention—no machine—no purchase fund; but, he had a general sentiment of the people in his favor that was simply irresistible. The few politicians, that for various reasons did not desire his nomination; and the few people, who, perhaps, honestly doubted the expediency of his nomination, went down before that irresistible and practically universal sentiment, like straws before a cyclone! There was nothing to do at Denver, but nominate Bryan, as there will be nothing to do in November but elect him. It is so written in the stars and in the consciences of the American people!

Minnesota, Delaware, Georgia and New York, seemed, at first, mark, that I say SEEMED—to stand out against the otherwise universal sentiment. But Minnesota was actuated Nervous women should profit by Mrs. Barton's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Mrs. Helen Barton, of 27 Pearson Street, Chicago, Ill., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I was all run-down, and on the verge of nervous prostration from overwork and worry, and ill in bed, when I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken it a week I commenced to get better. I continued its use, my nervous trouble disappeared, and I am completely restored to health. I hope Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will benefit other women as it has me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

by state pride and an honest hope to exalt her glorious favorite son, Johnson; so was Delaware, with her great son, Gray; Georgia also stood by Gray, because Gray had stood by Georgia, in opposing and defeating the infamous "force bill," in the dark days of reconstruction and felt that she owed him a debt of gratitude. And, New York—well, New York had no particular candidate of her own; she only wanted the most available candidate nominated; she was doubtful of Bryan; Missouri-like, she said, "Show me!" and she was so abundantly "shown," even in the first session of the convention, that she fairly barked her chains, getting into the Bryan band-wagon! And, Minnesota, Delaware and Georgia, as soon as the nomination was made, vied with New York, not in a perfumery way, but heartily and enthusiastically, in endorsing it. There will be no skulking in tents this fall; but, an united effort, all over the country, to see what state can do the best, for Bryan and reform.

The platform is magnificent. It was the work of an able committee, selected from each state of the union, who labored over it 60 hours; who reported it unanimously to the convention, where it was unanimously adopted, without a dissenting voice. There was perfect unity in the committee and in the convention, upon the tariff question; the anti-injunction plank, and upon every other issue contained in the platform. When was such a thing ever known before? And, the platform will commend itself to the reason and the conscience of every intelligent, patriotic voter.

The grand work of nominating Bryan was fitly completed in the selection of his running mate. With so many favored sons boomed for the vice presidency, it was quite possible to have made a bad mistake; but, it was impossible to have made a better selection than was made. Personally, John W. Kern is a tower of strength, in every way; and his nomination places a pivotal state in the Democratic column, beyond all doubt. Now, since Providence has given us Taft and Bryan, it is our own fault if we do not turn those advantages into victory!

The demonstration, when the name of Bryan was first pronounced in the convention broke all previous convention records. When blind Senator Gore of Oklahoma, pronounced the magic name, Bryan, it was like placing a red-hot iron in a powder magazine. The convention simply exploded and no human power could stop it, till it became exhausted and worn-out, by the force of its own violence and intensity. This demonstration lasted one hour and a half; and beautiful women, handsomely dressed, joined in it as enthusiastically as did the men. The record demonstration, on Friday morning, at a quarter of four o'clock, lasted one solid hour; and in this final demonstration over the unanimous nomination of Bryan, there was not one flag or banner missing, in all the union. New York and Nebraska marched side by side; and Delaware and Georgia followed, with all the rest of the states, in one solid, united column!

As I filed out, with the cheering, shouting multitude, from that vast Auditorium, at 4 o'clock in the morning, into the coolness and brightness of that opal Colorado dawn, I felt that the long, dark night had fled and that a brighter, better day was about to dawn for the American people.

(To M. E. A., with apologies.)
Your letter just received, friend,
And it led me to suppose
That your town is offensive
To eyes and ears and nose.
Now I don't mind the perfume,
For I'm used to that at home,
And as for other faults, old pal,
Why, every town has some.
As for fertilizer plants and such,
They aren't in my line,
For we live near a soap shop,
With an odor simply fine.
As for dirty sidewalks,
Lay aside your fears;
Our streets are sprinkled muddy,
And not cleaned up for years.
I mean, some streets are sprinkled,
The other ones can go—
I guess it's all because
Our coming waterworks is slow.
About the other things you mention,
They do alright, old pal.
For some guy said that all great minds
Don't worry any longer,
When the old disease germ larks,
But cage him up, and send him
To the Board of Public Works.

The Molders drew first blood in the three game series with the Tigers from Mansfield Wednesday afternoon when Lefty Webb, the only side wheeler of the Newark team, held the Mansfield bunch to four hits in 12 Innings and his team mates, by a rally in the twelfth, scored one run with two out, and sent the big crowd home happy.

Gygli, Locke, Murray and Wratten were the lads who scored the winning run, each man having a finger in the pie. Wratten was the man with the timely bingle and his drive to right field with Murray on third was good to see.

Mister Buckholz, the gentleman who worked on the mound for the visiting aggregation was some pumpkins when it came to pitching, but his rabbit's foot which he carried through the first eight Innings of play must have been temporarily mislaid, for five of Newark's nine hits came after the eighth frame and all were clean out drives. Smith's triple which proved the undoing of the Mansfield boys, was a beautiful drive to deep right, and neither Channell nor Mehan had a ghost of a show getting under it.

Webb's pitching was superb. Only four hits were allowed during the entire twelve Innings and nothing resembling a bingle came after the eighth. The Tigers' lone tally was scored on a fluke. Webb lost control for a period in the third and hit two men in succession. An infield sacrifice and an out to Lock in center field gave them the run which looked sufficient to win.

No better ball was ever played on the Wehrle park diamond than that put up Wednesday. Neither team wavered for an instant, and if there were any errors of judgment they escaped notice. There were numerous sensational plays to delight the fair fans and they showed their appreciation too, each time the occasion presented itself.

Snyder had the greatest bit of fielding when he jumped into the air in the twelfth and speared Biery's apparently safe drive. The ball was not a high fly, but a vicious drive which would have hit the batter. Snyder was playing back of the short and ran like a streak. He saw it was impossible to get under the ball and it looked like he was going over his head when he jumped high into the air and pulled it down while round after round of cheers greeted the play.

Umpire Bobbing Hart was there and while his decisions did not figure in either of the three games scored, he was badly off on several occasions. He called Wratten out for hitting by a batted ball when it was a fly, an impossibility for him to have gotten in front of it, as it was hit and bunted toward short. The ball was a clean bunt hit which Wratten should have had credit for, but was robbed of by Hart's decision. Then Harry Bells several judgments to go over the decision, and each time he went to and from the coach him he called Hart's attention to the play. Bobby evidently realized that he

MANSFIELD IS KNOCKING

ON THE ATTENDANCE AT THE GAMES AT WEHRLE PARK BUT IS MISINFORMED.

Attendance Here is Good Considering the Weather and Other Drawbacks—Short Sport.

When he talks of the attendance at Wehrle park and says that the Tigers will play to three or four hundred people here on the week day games, with possibly one if a double header is played. He would have been surprised to have seen the thousand or more fans out yesterday. True, about half of these were ladies who were admitted free, but the attendance would have been fully 500. Mansfield could not get out half that number at any week day game at their little ball park.

This same scribble probably would not believe that there were 1200 people last Friday at the double header with Marion. As for Sunday games, there has not been a Sunday for a month that was not threatening to such an extent that even the scores through it seems for the fans to take the trip to the park. In spite of the threatening storm, fully 500 or 1000 people saw the game. A game on Sunday with fair weather will turn out from 2000 to 3000 people, a crowd twice as large as any, seen at Mansfield at a ball game.

Harvey Pastorious, umpire, once bought a player for a package of scrap. Years ago, when Pastorious was playing ball around Zanesville and Newark, the players were lucky to get their meals. Pay days were almost unheard of.

Enoch Somers, who can talk more slang than any other man living, was managing Zanesville at the time. He wanted to get rid of Goldie Ayers.

He broached the subject to Pastorious. Five dollars was the price demanded. "Pas" was broke and Enoch was broke, so a compromise was made.

Somers sold the player for one package of chewing tobacco. Shortly after the sale Ayers was paralyzed. "He's still my property," said Pastorious.

"And," he concluded in mournful tones, "I'm out a package of scrap."

While the O. P. and Ohio State leagues are having their own troubles with the salary limit it seems to have long been a joke in the Central. Manager Lowe of Grand Rapids, has just signed Pitcher Eubanks from Indianapolis. Eubanks was with Detroit last year. Terra Haute was a month salary he demanded. Lowe came up with the cash and Eubanks signed with Grand Rapids. There's nothing like that in the O. P. this year.

Down at Zanesville Umpire Smith is used as a comparison for every poor umpire. If the ump is as bad as Smith he's very bad, they think in Zanesville. If he's worse he's positively rotten.

McKenzie must be a very poor umpire for a Zanesville scribe speaks of him thusly:

"Cassie Chadwick was an amateur, Jesse James a novice, Dick Turpin a nut, Ananias a piker, Blind Tom a never waser and Bill Smulk a pleasant memory when compared to the ideal imperfection of McKenzie."

At Wilmet one of the sturdy throwers of the Diggers, is at his home sulking with a ruptured ear drum and will be out of the game for some time. Wilmet is taking treatment of an ear specialist and as soon as possible he will be ready to take his turn in the box.

According to the Bootblack's Notion But Mr. Fulton Was Happy Just the Same.

Councilman W. D. Fulton in talking with a party of friends last night related the following incident illustrating a difference in point of view.

Mr. Fulton had just returned from Lima with his touring car where he had gone with the Newark bootblack to attend the G. A. R. encampment. Mr. Fulton had assisted in the hard work which resulted in securing for Newark the next state encampment for the veterans, and he came home happy in knowing that the efforts of the Newark folks had been successful.

Stopping in a barber shop for a shave, the artist who holds the foot was told that Mr. Fulton had just poured from his trip, and without thought of the object of his trip, and his mind dwelling wholly on baseball—the Newark team was in Lima at that time—the bootblack remarked:

"Well, you had a long trip didn't you, Mr. Fulton? But you might as well stay here at home, for Newark lost both games."

IRON TRADE REVIEW

Cleveland, July 16.—The Iron Trade Review today says:

A brightening influence is slowly but surely working its way through the iron and steel industry. Despite the fact that the present season is normally the most inactive of the year, it is becoming more clearly apparent that a wholesome reaction has set in and that no ground is now being lost.

It is not to be concluded from the encouraging signs that former prosperity is close at hand, or that the grossly exaggerated reports of iron and steel mills and other industries have much basis in truth. Nor should the bare facts be overlooked, that the railroads the largest single consumers of iron and steel are still avoiding the market, and that the buying trade in general has not sufficiently recovered from its recent embarrassments to confidently buy for the future.

The United States Steel Corporation has blown in six stacks during the week at scattered points, and is now operating its blast furnaces at about 55 per cent of normal capacity. The Carnegie Steel company has now more furnaces in operation than at any time since December, having 25 on the active list. The effects of the coal strike is now being felt in the Birmingham district, where the blowing in of two stacks has been deferred on account of the fuel shortage.

The ruling quotations on plates and shapes have been made to apply on deliveries to January 1, and this extension from October 1 as originally announced has resulted in the placing of much larger tonnages by jobbers and fabricators than would have been the case if the concessions of two dollars had only covered a three month period. In both the Cleveland and Chicago districts, large contracts have been placed, and the fact that the buying was on a conservative basis indicates that the movement was by no means speculative. The competition of the re-rolling mills has unsettled the market in high carbon bars and merchant shapes, and concessions of one to two dollars a ton from agreed quotations are being made. Bar iron prices have been re-affirmed on a basis of 1.25 C. Pittsburgh.

FALLS FLIGHT OF STAIRS

John Long, a drayman, a brother of Mose Long, of the Long Transfer company, fell from the top of a long flight of stairs in the west side of the Union block, Thursday morning, and was rendered unconscious.

Long was coming down the steps with a couple of bundles of rags when he missed his footing and rolled out onto the street nearly to the curb. His head was cut open and he was unconscious for over an hour. The police patrol wagon was summoned from headquarters and the man was placed on a stretcher and taken to the city hospital, accompanied by Dr. W. H. Knapp, who attended him. He is not believed to be seriously hurt.

MEETS DEATH

Under Wheels of Fast Freight at Mt. Vernon—Narrow Escape of Four Other Men.

Mr. Vernon, 60, 14, 14, Oscar Ark and 17 years, coming off a swift moving freight train Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, and being hit by a locomotive, fell and was dashed beneath the wheels and around to death. He was dragged about 50 feet, his body being picked up just opposite the front entrance of the passenger station.

The accident was witnessed by several employees and attaches of the station, but before they could reach the man's side life was extinct. Ark was a glazier, working on the Union block, and the trip from Mt. Vernon to Union and return morning and evening. He generally rode the passenger

WATER DRAINED INTO OLD WELL

Tuesday's heavy rain made a veritable lake in the rear of Charles L. Conrad's grocery where a dozen teams are making the dirt fly in preparation for the new Arcade building that will extend from Third to Fourth streets.

The teamsters expected a day or two of rest until the water could be absorbed by the earth but one of the men found an old abandoned well in the ditch and connection with the miniature lake was made. All of the water was quickly drained into the well and the excavating was resumed Wednesday morning.

This well is recalled by many of the older residents of the city. It was in use at the time the late Andrew Smucker conducted a livery stable on this site. Since the removal of the old stable several feet of filling covered the spot and when the excavating was begun last week the top of the old well was about four feet under the surface of the ground.

CAMP PERRY

Being Placed in Readiness for Great National Rifle Matches—Hundreds Will Participate.

In one month the great national rifle matches will be in progress on the beautiful range at Camp Perry, lying on the banks of Lake Erie, across from Put-in-Bay, adjacent to Sandusky, and within easy reach of Cleveland, Toledo and Detroit. Camp Perry is the most accessible of all large rifle ranges, which fact augurs well for the attendance on these matches. It is expected that more than one thousand of the crack military shots will be in attendance, who, with the 1,200 officers, scorers, markers, guards, etc., will make a camp of about 2,500 men. Many soldiers are already at the camp, and scores are coming in every day or two. It is assured that these matches will be the largest in point of attendance ever held in this country, and perhaps will be the best of national matches to be held, at least for some years to come.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

Now is the time to buy good clothes at reduced prices at ROE EMERSON'S Clearance Sale.

AUDITORIUM THEATER.

For the last half of the week at the Auditorium the new moving pictures are A Pressing Letter, Inexhaustible Barrel, Chemist's Mistake, Kira-Kira, Go Little Cabin Boy, The Heart's Bidding, Wilkam the Poacher, The Pirates, The Wonderful Lion Killer, and The Enchanted Pond, making a long varied program. Several of these are of the ridiculous comedy style, and will without doubt meet with the approval of all. Miss Everts will introduce a new song, "Neath the Old Cherry Tree, Sweet Marie." "To Our Absent Brothers," an Elk song, will be retained for the balance of the week. Billy Morris, who has made many friends will introduce new jokes, making the last half of the week a varied and decidedly pleasing evening.
